

Australian Support Dogs

Raise a puppy, change a life

Every trained assistance dog starts their journey in the loving home of a puppy raiser for 12 months.

For special people with extra space in their hearts and homes, volunteer puppy raising is an exceptional way to help people with disabilities live more independent lives.

Would you like to raise a puppy for its future role as an assistance dog?

Australian Support Dogs Inc. (ASDOG) is a not-for-profit organisation dedicated to the raising, training and placement of assistance dogs for people with physical disabilities.

Puppy Raisers are highly valued and dedicated volunteers who are at home most of the day, have fenced yards, sleep their puppy indoors, are committed to their puppy's health and welfare and live in the Sydney metropolitan area.

What is the role of a puppy raiser?

ASDOG supports Puppy Raisers in their role to provide puppies with:

- ❖ Good house manners
- ❖ Basic obedience
- ❖ Socialisation
- ❖ Travel training
- ❖ Short daily walks
- ❖ A happy, positive upbringing

ASDOG relies solely on the generosity of public donation to progress each dog through its two-year puppy raising, advanced training and recipient training programs. The average total program cost per dog is $20,000. Donations are gratefully appreciated and make a valuable contribution to the increased independence of a recipient – assistance dog team.
